FOREWORD

The members of the Senior Class are happy to present this, your 1951 Lo Ho Me. We wish to thank you for your cooperation in making this year book possible. We hope this book will refresh pleasant memories of your high school days. It is with this in mind that the Lo Ho Me was published.

The 1951 edition of Lo Ho Me has been compiled as a token of our esteem for Mrs. Stelma Van Horne Whitley. Her loyalty, devotion, and untiring efforts will always be remembered. It is with great respect and admiration that we proudly dedicate this year book in recognition of her eleven years of faithful service as Senior Advisor of Hobucken High School.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

In spite of early blunders, we were the infant wonders of this school three years past. Is it actually true that our high school days are almost over? Amazing! It seems only yesterday that we entered the Freshman Class. Mr. T. A. Guiton was our home room teacher, and with Mrs. Whitley and Mr. Hamilton to help him push us ahead we soon found that the old saying, "Learning's road is rough," is a very true statement. During the year, to our sorrow, we lost Jack Watson, Lucy Lupton and Georgia Grimes. 'Tis a pity.

We began our Sophomore year under the guidance of Mr. Hamilton; our other teachers were Miss Pope, Mrs. Whitley and Mr. Lancaster. We were very brave and wise. We thought we had discovered a method that would get us through classes without the aid of books or a teacher, that is until report cards and exams came along. Our class was constantly growing smaller. We lost LaRue Bateman, Josephine Swindell and Marie Carawan.

What a happy day when we became Juniors. Never another like it, so we thought then. The year was exciting and one to be long remembered. We had Mr. Q. M. Lewis as our advisor and Mrs. Whitley, Mr. Hamilton and Mr. Tenney as teachers. In March we gave the annual Junior-Senior banquet in New Bern. It was an impressive affair and enjoyed by everyone. In return the Seniors honored us with a delightful party. Nell Mayo, Ciniath Henries and James Almond left us at the end of the year.

Dignified Seniors at last! Mr. Hamilton, our principal, did not return so Mr. R. A. Haddock came to fill his place. With Mrs. Whitley as advisor, Mr. Morgan and Mr. Tenney to help us our year has been a very happy one. Yes, we grew to be Seniors away last Fall, and the fourth year adventures were best of them all.

And now, a page of our Log Book is turning,
The happiest one, some say,
Where naught but trivia has disturbed
Events from day to day.
What will we face in the future?
What will our guidance be?
Why, these remembered hours in Life's calmer sea.
Nothing we know of the Morrow,
But we have Yesterday,
And the lesson it has taught us
Will forever with us stay.
We will look out to the future, up to a shining star,
Which, elusive as it may seem, is never very far.
The challenge is before us to make the Right prevail,
Each of us a Galahad in search of the Holy Grail.
We have our parting orders
And each, in his separate way
Will prove "Success is not gained at a single bound,"
But by effort from day to day.

William Joseph Carawan, Historian

PROPHECY

Whe-e-en I wuz a young guy I went to Hobucken High, got tuh be a Senior, after 10 years or more. With my advanced age I should know what happened to my classmates.

Bruce Morris kissed all the babies; was elected as the Mayor of the City of Mesic. He'll be Governor; wait and see.

'Mongst files and typing, books and ledgers, Leatha Lewis is never at a mental loss; most efficient in an office—(and she weds her bald-headed boss).

Husky Fred Alcock rolls in wealth, teaching courses based on health. Of "wim and wigor" he has a load; step aside, he may explode.

Hat designers in the city Noema Culp's and Una Sadler's minds run riot; no one should make hats out of spinach, but watch our two girls try it!

Artist Levy O'Neal paints strange pictures, masterpieces by the score, while a dozen luscious models wait outside the studio door.

Louise Barnett is working tonight in the hospital wards, giving words of cheer and hope to weary hearts for the life they hold so dear.

Train dispatcher in Grand Central, Kenneth Pate's booming voice is heard. Blasts your ear drums; but the catch is, you can't understand a word.

Though surveyor Albert McKinney has a steady eye, one thing will distract his attention. Just let a certain young lady stroll by, or a name like Edna O'Neal mention.

Notice our friend, Metta Carawan, teacher in Sunday School; busy making saints of sinners; teaching the Golden Rule.

Undertaker William Carawan chuckles when you sneeze or cough, hoping some bewhiskered microbe will cause you to "pop off."

Esther Lupton bends her body, piling up the score in every game, surpassing all others, bringing her college fame.

Someone should shoot Barden Carawan, growling on the radio; scaring tots with nightmare horrors, as shivering, off to bed they go.

Chef in a big New York hotel, Ben Gaskill is doing well; he can make hash in just three minutes; Heaven alone knows how fast Alma Potter can sling it.

Fifty miles from the nearest neighbor, Thomas Sadler and Bert Norman sit; as fire wardens in a tower, people near them give them fits.

There are Ella Jones and Wayne Leavy cutting capers on Broadway; signing contracts by the dozen, stars that have come to stay.

He can cure your chills and fever, that is Dr. Eric Campen's boast. Which is worse, the ills or treatment? That's what puzzles us the most.

So you see no one got ahead of me—I could teach the Faculty. Felt right tuh hum in a cap and gown. Don't you agree that 28's mighty young tuh graduate? Think I'll do the town; so long all.

Donald Williams, Prophet

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

Township of Hobucken
County of Pamlico
State of North Carolina

We, the undersigned, known officially as the Senior Class of 1951, being sound in mind—we hope, and sound in body—we believe, realizing that our days at Hobucken High School are almost over, do hereby declare these after-mentioned to be our legal and rightful heirs. We do hereby relinquish and make the following dispensations of our possessions:

Article I

To our advisor, Mrs. Whitley, our heartfelt thanks for her guidance and interest in all our class activities.

Article II

To Mr. Haddock and the members of the faculty we leave not only our gratitude but our sincere wishes that the classes that follow will give them more ease and peace of mind.

Article III, Section A

To the oncoming Seniors we do will and bequeath that rare gift called Senior privileges, with the understanding that they are not to be handled carelessly, tossed about or abused.

Section B

To the oncoming Juniors we leave a strong box containing a list of our mistakes. Read them and try to avoid the same.

Section C

To the oncoming Sophomores we leave our fine class spirit, hoping that it will not be too long before you, too, will be Seniors.

Article IV

To our beloved parents we leave our gratitude for the many sacrifices they have made in our behalf.

Article V (Individual Wills)

I, Bert Norman, do will and bequeath my quiet ways to Lonnie Perry.

I, Eric Campen, leave my privilege of necking at school to Jane Spain and Benjie Mercer.

We, Noema Culp and Una Sadler, will our love for the Coast Guard boys to Norris Parson.

I, Barden Carawan, leave my winning ways with the girls to Larry Jones.

I, Bruce Morris, leave my shyness to John Cayton.

I, Wayne Leary, bequeath to Edith Ballence my ability to become engaged during my Senior year.

We, Alma Potter and Thomas Sadler, will our friendliness to Earl Lupton.

I, Louise Barnett, leave my ability to get and keep a service man to Sally Whealton.

We, Ester Lupton and Leatha Lewis, will our ability to study to Barbara Henries.

I, Ben Gaskill, leave my ability to argue with the teachers to Audrey Potter.
